Famous for being famous, the Côte d'Azur is a region where landscape, food, and water merge together to create a unique and sumptuous travel experience. This sunny stretch of the Mediterranean running along the southern coast of France, from the hills and vineyards of Bandol to la Croissette in Cannes and finishing at the Casino in Monte Carlo, the Côte d'Azur has plenty of excitement to offer the visitor of varied interests. The Romans were lured by the beauty and abundance of the area, and one drive along le Moyenne Corniche and you'll understand why. The sea glistens, the breeze is balmy and spectacular residences tucked behind perfectly manicured hedges stand as reward for anyone lucky enough to own a parcel of this paradise.

The Côte d'Azur attracts people from all over the world. After a visit to hilly inland towns like Vence, Grasse, and Mougins, most people head for the seaside towns that pepper the coastline. We are talking major league famous seaside resort towns, like Cannes, St Tropez, Antibes, and Monaco.

The STREETWISE® French Riviera map, complete with topographic terrain features, has all of the major A roads and local D roads clearly indicated to enable you to drive from Marseille to Monaco. In fact, there are detailed inset maps of Marseille, Cannes, Nice and Monaco so you can complete an epicurean quest for the quintessential bouillabaisse, a towering tier of fruits de mer, the perfect socca, or a $10.00 Coca-Cola at the Café de Paris in front of the Casino in Monte Carlo.

The map index is complete with towns, cities, sites and major hotels. You need nothing more than a bathing suit to complete your trip.
