What if there is life after death?

What if evolution didn't happen? Charles Darwin and many others say there are no transitional fossils of one organism into another. It's as if all these organisms came in one fell swoop.

The most basic law of science is that matter cannot be created or destroyed. It can be transferred to another state but not destroyed. If this is true then how were we created? Is there something higher than science that created us, a supernatural force of the Universe?

Everybody feels the pain of being betrayed by others. Some people feel betrayed by the whole human race. They think it's rotten, that the world is screwed. They might be bitter, mean and angry. What if you're mean, bitter and angry when you die? Will your hardened heart take you to a place called Hell?

I've watched hundreds of near-death-experience stories on youtube. Some were positive. Many were trips into hell. Some were the result of suicide attempts. I've watched many angel videos, ayahuasca vision quests and studied death beliefs and customs across cultures and history.

I did this because I thought I felt dark supernatural forces in my head tell me to do negative things. They were a few brief voices that I knew instantly came from beyond me. It wasn't just me daydreaming. It was like someone whispering to me.

There is a lot of consistency from many disparate sources about what happens when you die. Your spirit leaves your body. You are either enveloped by a great feeling of love or demons taking you to hell.

If you ever get to that place where demons are taking you to hell when in you're in spirit form after you die, they say the sure solution is to call out desperately and loudly for Jesus to save you like Ian McCormack and many others did. You have to accept that Jesus died on the cross to give you the grace of eternal life so if you're ever in a desperate situation, you got nothing to lose by accepting Jesus as your personal savior.

Will you take that chance that there is either no life after death or that you might end up in hell if you do not accept Jesus Christ as your personal savior, repent of your sins and try to be a good person?

I know that everybody constantly feels anger and lust. It's part of being human. Can you control it and try to be a good force of humanity even if it's just for the selfish reason of getting into Heaven when you die?

The intention might be the most important thing but it's hard to love the human race when society tells us to hoard what we can and constantly upgrade our home decor. If the human race was really loving, we would share what we have and there would be no poverty or homelessness anywhere because there is enough for everybody right now but we in the West have most of it while many people starve everyday.

I know God says to love your fellow man but I think it's impossible because we're selfish by nature. I say try to respect people. Be nice and polite.

If I were to love my fellow man, I would be in pain all the time because of seeing all the pain and suffering going on. It’s a hard way to live, to take the pain and suffering of your fellow man as your burden. People would say you’re a masochist. Leo Tolstoy said how could anyone be happy when they’re aware of all the pain and suffering in the world.

If there is life after death, will you risk not entering Heaven because of the way you’re living now?

You have to forgive yourself for what you see as where you messed up in life.

You have to forgive everybody that you think wronged you somehow. I mean everybody regardless of what they did. You can’t find peace, love or eternal life unless you do this. You have to do this if you want your spirit to connect with God’s spirit.

You must repent of all your sins.

You must pray to Jesus Christ and accept Him as your personal savior.

You put yourself into eternal damnation if you live the wrong life according to
